More U.S. technical assistance for Trade Facilitation Agreement (TFA)

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved legislation that would establish a five-year pilot program to help developing countries implement the WTO Trade Facilitation Agreement, which aims to cut red tape in customs and other international trade procedures. The legislation was sponsored by Chairman Bob Corker and ranking member Ben Cardin.

TPP: remaining issues for U.S. Congress

12 years' protection for biologics test data, financial services data flows seem to be remaining issues for U.S. Congress. Tobacco seems closed, but has cost TPP at least 13-16 votes in the House and eight or more in the Senate. In June 2015, the TPA only passed the House by 10 votes (218-208), so those lost votes will have to be made up by persuading some that voted against the TPA in June 2015.

News and Issues

ADB Affirms Support For Vietnam, Cautions on SOEs

The ADB anticipates growth of 6.7% in 2016 and 6.5% in 2017, but sluggish SEO reform acts as a brake on even faster expansion. ADB President Takehiko Nakao placed emphasis on Vietnam's state-owned (SEOs), many of which have turned into financial nightmares for the government. During his visit, Nakao stated that "it is particularly important to reform SEOs by reducing the state's ownership, improving corporate governance and strengthening financial performance."

2016 Fashion Industry Benchmarking Study

U.S. fashion companies are more actively seeking alternatives to "Made in China" in 2016, but China's position as the No.1 sourcing destination seems unlikely to change anytime soon. Meanwhile, sourcing from Vietnam and Bangladesh may continue to grow over the next two years, but at a slower pace.

Vietnam businesses unlikely to derive maximum TPP benefits quickly

VCCI's WTO Center said that according to an April survey 1,500 enterprises only 11.6% plan to change their production modes in the next three years to improve value added.

Starbucks opens fifth coffee shop in Hanoi now has 20 outlets nationwide. "We look at Vietnam and we see so much potential. It's such a vibrant and exciting market," said Patricia Marques, general manager at Starbucks Vietnam at the store's opening. Starbucks' coffee is priced slightly higher than most of its local competitors. Vietnam is one of the largest coffee producers in the world, but arabica beans, which are used by Starbucks for its drinks, account for only around 3% of the country's coffee output, while robusta accounts for 97%.

Watchdog checks Uber's taxes

Authorities managed to collect Uber's share of taxes, but it was difficult to collect the drivers' share. Nguyễn Quang Tiến, director of the General Department of the Taxation's Department of Tax Reform and Modernisation, said on Tuesday that the performance of tax payment obligations by Uber's taxi drivers must now be checked first while Việt Nam needed to have policies to better tax the increasingly popular car hailing service for the income it received from its operations in Việt Nam.

"China is not a market economy" - Washington Post

After years of booming by exporting and investing, the People's Republic has begun accumulating debt and excess industrial capacity; yet the leadership in Beijing seems unwilling or unable to make the necessary transition to greater reliance on services and domestic consumption. China's bloated state-run industries, especially steel and aluminum, are desperately trying to raise cash by flooding the United States and Europe with cheap products, a global fire sale that threatens jobs in those countries, triggers retaliatory measures - and adds to geopolitical tensions already high over the maritime boundary dispute in the South China Sea.

Vietnamese consumers find it hard to trust food safety management

Only 30% of consumers in Hanoi believe that foods with safety certificate are safe, according to Nguyen Thi Hong Minh, a former deputy agriculture minister. The proportion in Ho Chi Minh City is higher, at 70%.

SEC announces non-prosecution agreements in FCPA cases allegedly involving Chinese officials

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has agreed to nonprosecution agreements (NPAs) in two cases that both relate to alleged bribes paid to Chinese officials by foreign subsidiaries. One company, Nortek, will pay $291,403, plus $30,655 in interest, the SEC said. Some $290,000 in improper payments and gifts were made to Chinese officials by Nortek's subsidiary "in order to receive preferential treatment, relaxed regulatory oversight, or reduced customs duties, taxes, and fees," according to the SEC.

Health Ministry to investigate beverage producers

The Health Ministry plans to conduct a 45-day-long inspection at four beverage companies for compliance with food safety laws, as part of the ministry's food safety inspection plan this year, which was approved late last year. The inspection team is expected to check for any shortcomings or positive factors, so that penalties or praise can be applied accordingly.

Listed firms must adopt IFRS in 2020

Firms listed on Vietnam's two stock exchanges in HCM City and Hanoi will be the first to be required to adopt International Financial Reporting Standards in 2020, a finance ministry official has said. The application of the international system is inevitable due to demands from the World Bank, IFC, and foreign investors. The adoption would help improve the transparency of corporate financial reporting and, thus, foreign investment, he said.

TPP supporters pin hopes on "lame duck" session

"Right now you have a president, a [Senate] majority leader and a speaker [of the House] who are all pro-trade; There is a pathway forward here," USTR Michael B. Foman said in an interview, reflecting a seize-the-moment recognition of the changed lineup ahead. Whether that is wishful thinking or a real prospect will have to come into focus well before November because supporters would likely need to begin congressional hearings in September to clear the path for a vote in the lame-duck session of Congress after Election Day.

USITC Institutes Investigation of Carbon and Alloy Steel Products

The U.S. International Trade Commission has voted to institute an investigation of certain carbon and alloy steel products from China. The complaint alleges one or more of the following unfair acts: (1) a conspiracy to fix prices and control output and export volumes, in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; (2) the misappropriation and use of U.S. Steel's trade secrets; and (3) the false designation of origin or manufacturer, in violation of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a). The complainants request that the USITC issue a general exclusion order, a limited exclusion order, and cease and desist orders.

Finance Committee Chairman explains process of TPP ratification

The signing ceremony ... is just beginning. We'll debate the merits of each and every provision of this agreement and consider how it will impact workers and job creators in our country and how it will affect the health of our economy. I will focus on the process by which Congress will consider and debate this agreement ... it is important that people, including members of Congress, the administration, stakeholders, and the media, have a full understanding of how this is going to work. As I've said many times, the TPP is an extremely important agreement, and we need to get it done. But, given that importance, we need to focus more on getting it right than on getting it done fast.
